

Meredith W. Hodges

Meredith is currently the Vice President of External Affairs and Human Resources of Gas South, LLC. She has 16 years experience in the utility industry, including both electricity and natural gas, in functions ranging from economic development to human resources to sales. Meredith is a founding officer of Gas South, which purchased Southern Company Gas last year, and focuses her attention on HR as well as regulatory, legislative and community affairs. Meredith has a Bachelors from Washington & Lee University and a Master's in Human Resource Development from Georgia State. She is happily married to a stay-at-home dad and has a six year old daughter.